CompSci Workshop 3 – Professional coding and open source, Entrepreneurship and IPR, CV writing, interview training and grant writing

Programme

Tuesday, 21 May

08:30 Coffee and tea

09:00 Welcome to the workshop

Tone Skramstad, Head of office, Center for Computing in Science Education (CCSE), University of Oslo

09:05 Innovation and IPR

Ivar Bergland, Senior innovation adviser, UiO Growth House, University of Oslo

Nicolay Bérard-Andersen, Senior innovation adviser, UiO Growth House, UiO

Joseph Maloba Makokha, Postdoctoral Fellow, Department of Informatics, UiO

Tobias Dahl, Senior Research Scientist, SINTEF

Having lots of ideas is one thing, organizing, prioritizing and ultimately, protecting them, is something else entirely! In this workshop, you will learn how to generate, organize and rate your ideas with the longer term goal to protect them using one or more patents. As a hands on exercise, we will try out the "atomized IP approach" on a specific case. You will be working in groups to come up with solutions to a given problem, then present your results – and how to protect your ideas – to the class.
